

Symphony No. 2 (Full Score)

The purpose of writing a symphony for children came to me as an ability to realize the charm of great composers in simple ways, which allow both children and adults to hear ideas based on established sound and to allow the players of the orchestra to show their color and ability to play in sections and as a whole. Each movement has its own characteristic and each of these tend to reach for the positive; letting everyone who hears the symphony enjoy and remember the wonderful aspects of life and childhood.
